Make Plans For Memorial Day

This year's Memorial Day parade will be held Sunday afternoon, May 30, though the observance in less busy years would have taken place on the Monday following, according to plans made by a committee of representatives of local patriotic organizations. Commander Edgar Northam of the Legion will be chief marshal, and his three aides will represent the V.F.W., the British Empire War Veterans and the Legion.

The first division of the parade on the afternoon of May 30 will consist of a platoon of police, the chief marshal and his staff, the Punchard girls' band, Company 80, Mass. State Guard, the V.F.W. and its auxiliary, the auxiliary to W. L. Raymond Camp, Sons of Veterans, and the Girl Scouts.

The second division will be led by the Legion junior bugle and drum corps, followed by Andover Post 8, its auxiliary, the Sons of the American Revolution and the Boy Scouts.

Plan Community Canning Center

The Free church has put at the disposal of the Andover food production committee its kitchen and cooking equipment for a community canning center, to open July 12 and run through the season to the end of September. Mrs. M. Phillips Graham and Mrs. Charles P. Gabeler have laid extensive plans for local canning.

The services have been secured of Miss Esther Belair of Essex Aggies, who will supervise the use of the kitchen. Mrs. Harold Rutter will be in charge of bookkeeping, and Mrs. Marlon Boynton will recruit volunteer workers.

A questionnaire has been sent out through the neighborhood block leaders to most of the homes in town. The committee asks that these be returned promptly so that it can gain an idea of the probable scope of its activities. It will be necessary to have a number of volunteer workers to help Miss Belair, in order that the surplus produce of people may not go to waste.

OPA has decreed that 100 quarts per family may be canned at the Free church center without any exchange of points. The following rules will be observed:

A person may bring to the center all the vegetables she wishes

Mail New Ration Book Applications

Postoffice In Charge Of Heavy Registration

The heavy task of delivering an application for War Ration Book III to every individual in town falls this week upon the local postoffice. The books have not arrived there yet, though today is the deadline for this vicinity, and no definite instructions have been received on their distribution. The schedule calls for all applications to be delivered by June 5.

Since the applications will not be addressed to individuals, the mail carriers will be obliged to rely on their own knowledge of their routes, and often on the cooperation of the householder, to recognize how many applications to leave at each dwelling. The blanks must be returned to the address printed on them not later than June 10. Anyone not receiving an application may pick it up at the postoffice. He must pay the usual postage when returning it to Boston.

Instructions for the public in preparing their applications, formulated by OPA and OWI jointly, are:

Your postman will leave an application card in your mail box this week.

To Consecrate Altars At St. Augustine's May 27

The new main altar at St. Augustine's church, completed there about a year ago, will be consecrated with impressive ritualistic services next Thursday morning, May 27, at 9:00, by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Francis Phelan, chancellor of the archdiocese, assisted by members of the clergy from this district.

The long and elaborate services will last for about two hours, after which Very Rev. Thomas B. Austin, O. S. A., pastor, will celebrate low mass at the newly-consecrated altar. The ceremony is one which is not often witnessed by lay persons, and is comparable to the consecration of a church. Holy relics will be sealed into the altar, and a marble slab cemented to it to form the altar table.

The ceremonies will begin with a procession from the house to the church, with clergy from Andover and Lawrence participating. Parts of the ritual will be chanted, but there will be no other music.

Members of the parish may attend all or part of the exercises. Full details will be announced at Sunday's masses.

Community Orchestra
Plans Fine Program

Tomorrow evening at 8:15 in Memorial Auditorium, the Andover Community Orchestra presents its Spring concert with the assistance of outstanding instrumental soloists. In fact, the appearance of the Adrian twins with the orchestra promises to be one of the high points of the local music season.

They are the youngest performers ever to appear in recital at the Gardner Museum, and they have won top honors at the piano tournament of the National College of Piano Teachers for three years. In Andover they will play the C major Bach concerto with string accompaniment. They have studied for five years with their mother, Mrs. Harry N. Adrian, of Melrose, herself a concert pianist and a teacher. A review of their recent appearance with the Melrose Symphony highly praised their technique.

The other instrumental highlights of the evening will be the playing of Tartini's G major Concerto for Violincello and Orchestra. George Brown, the soloist, is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, and since his debut in Jordan Hall, Boston, with Arthur Fiedler and Andover will be subjected to the same "savage attack" Sunday as Ballardvale got two weeks ago, when the local State Guard company will tangle with Federal troops taking the role of saboteurs in realistic maneuvers being held throughout the entire northern part of the state.

Sometime during the day, all local A. R. P. personnel will be mobilized to assist in the "defense" of the town; wardens, auxiliary, regular and state police will be included as well as a large staff at the report center.

Major W. Van V. Warren, group commander for the State Guard unit with which the local company is affiliated, will himself come to Andover to act as liaison officer at the report center, and he will be assisted by members of the Women's Defense Corps, thus releasing local Guardsmen for active service.

The State Guard will be on call after 7 Sunday morning, and will be in the field all day. They will proceed to their regular "point of mission" or field headquarters, and lunch will be served there at noon by the Red Cross canteen unit.

Regular army troops will enter Andover, and will be distinguished by the fact that they will wear steel helmets while the Guard troops will not. They will probably wear fatigue uniforms, dungarees or coveralls. All persons so dressed will be considered "enemy" forces by the local defense personnel.

Though the local Guard unit has no field communications equipment, it will pick up information regularly from the report center by house telephones, heliograph or wig-wag.

Its officers have no information at the moment as to what the nature of the "attack" will be. Umbrellas will be assigned to the unit, and, after receiving their information in Boston Saturday, will relay

COLLECT TIN SATURDAY

Just a reminder: Saturday morning is tin can collection time. With the aid of a group of Junior high school boys, 18 volunteer truck drivers will make a house-to-house canvass of the town, starting promptly at 9:00.

Each householder is urged to have all his empty tin cans on the sidewalk by 8:00 Saturday morning.

THE AN

Credit For Service News Should Split Three Ways

The Servicemen's Fund association has had a lot of spectacular achievements in its year of existence, but its latest project deserves as high praise as anything it has done heretofore. And, since it affects all the readers of the Townsman, especially its serviceman readers, we may as well go into it all in detail.

Several months ago—December 17, the week before Christmas, to be exact—the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance company of Shawsheen, began to send the Townsman, absolutely free, each week, to every local serviceman, no matter where he might be, in any corner of the globe, however remote.

Merrimack was to assume the expense of the project; there's no need to point out that it is a sizeable expense. The Townsman would undertake to keep the servicemen posted both on what was going on in town and what their buddies were doing in Uncle Sam's service. The Townsman would also assume the responsibility of seeing that the paper always got to the serviceman no matter where, or how frequently he was transferred.

The latter has been a monumental task; it involves getting the addresses, filing them, changing them, setting them in type, finally getting them on the papers every Thursday afternoon. We are now handling about 50 changes or new addresses every week. We've changed the addresses on an average of twice so far for every man on our mailing list. And, as far as we are able to judge, every local serviceman is getting his Townsman as fast as is humanly possible.

We should reiterate our previous position at the present time: every local man and woman in service, regardless of rank, grade, station or anything else, is entitled to receive a free Townsman every week for the duration. He or she will be added to our mailing list without any obligation as soon as his or her name and address are sent in to our office.

Where does the Fund association come in? Here's how:

The association took an interest in our servicemen's page from the start; naturally, since their one aim is to furnish the comforts of home to the boys in uniform, in any form, the furnishing of news for the boys would come under this head.

They originally had a wealth of information to draw from; parents sending them addresses, boys sending them thank you notes, and a systematic scurrying about on their part. They left absolutely no stone unturned in determining what they could do on the home front for Andover citizens on the war front.

Gradually, of course, that wealth of material changed to a paucity as the committee busied itself with more pressing matters. And the committee, heartily seconded by us, began to look around for some way to keep that news coming.

Well, everything on the home front seems to be done by neighborhoods nowadays—warden duty, the block leader program and the like. The Fund committee, therefore, thought that it might handle publicity by neighborhoods.

In addition to the editor's considerable labors on the servicemen's page—nowadays, we fear, more closely read than the front page—the committee pitched in on systematic coverage of the entire town. For the Carter's Corner article in this week's issue, for instance, they enlisted the services of Mrs. Emmanuel Gaudet of that district. And what a story she had to tell of Carter's Corner—27 boys in service from a dozen families, fifteen of them from five three-star families. We ate it up.

Now the committee informs us that it's enlisting other volunteer correspondents, for everywhere in town, Ballardvale, West Parish, Abbott Village, Scotland District, Shawsheen, the mills, the stores, the schools. If the thing works out according to schedule, a serviceman won't be able to sneeze on Tuesday without getting his name into the Townsman on Thursday.

The Townsman has always had marvelous cooperation from club correspondents, representatives from the civilian defense groups, and many others who cannot be classified here. But this, we think, is the first time any organization has tried to round up a whole corps of correspondents for us, who have turned in, and still are turning in, material of such magnificent reader interest.

So, if you want your own serviceman to make the pages of the Townsman, and you feel unusually timid (most people don't) about bearding the editors in their den, leave the item with a member of the Fund committee, or with one of their correspondents—we'll give you all the names and addresses later.

The purpose of this essay is to remind our readers that the Townsman is strictly a serviceman's paper from here on out. For the fact that every last serviceman will get the paper, thank Merrimack Mutual. The Townsman itself, of course, will hog all the credit it can get for assembling and printing the material. But be sure you also thank the Fund committee for doing something that has never been done here before, and which couldn't be done half as well, in all events, by any other group.

Selectmen Change Schedule

During the summer months, starting in June, the only regular meetings of the board of selectmen will be held on the first and third Mondays of the month.

Representatives of the board will be in the town hall between 9 and 10 in the morning and between 12 noon and 1:00 daily except Saturday. On Saturday, the noon hour session will be omitted.

WITH THE BOYS IN SERVICE

Carter's Corner, With 27 Boys In Service And Five Three-Star Families, Is Fighting This War For Keeps

When it comes to fighting and winning a war, you have to take off your hat to people of the type who live at Carter's Corner. That little community, with 27 boys in service, fifteen of them from five individual families, eleven of them overseas or on the high seas, is rolling up a record for itself that will really be something to look back on once the war is over.

The Emmanuel Gaudets have three sons in service, Edmund, with the AAF in the Pacific area, Gerard, on active duty with the Navy, and Raymond, also in aviation overseas. Ray sent home his Mother's card by V-Mail, and has written more recently that it looks as if we're going to do the Germans up brown. His unit was recently cited by Maj. Gen. Louis Brereton, as detailed here last week.

The Joseph Gallants have two sons and a son-in-law in service, Pvt. Reggie at Atlantic City, Roland, just promoted to S1c, on Pacific fleet service, and the son-in-law, Vernon Porter, with the Merchant Marines at their Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., training station.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Gallant have given three sons to Uncle Sam, Pvt. Leon, with the artillery at Camp Atterbury, Ind., Tech. Sgt. James, at Miami Beach, and Pvt. John, at Daniel Field, Georgia.

The fourth three-star family is that of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Richards. George Richards is an apprentice seaman at Newport, Sgt. Frank is overseas in the Pacific area, and Wilfred left for Devens Monday.

The fifth family is that of Mrs. Mary Ryan—Pvt. Tom, recently on desert maneuvers near Los Angeles, now home on furlough and expecting a transfer when he gets back to camp; Major Timothy Ryan, on duty at West Point, and Cpl. John Ryan of Fort Monmouth, N. J. John was recently married to Miss Mary Wolfendale of Salem street, Lawrence, and the couple visited Major Tim Ryan at West Point on their wedding trip.

A dozen or more other boys are in service in all parts of the globe. Cpl. Ivan Myers, son of the Benjamin Myers', is somewhere in foreign service. Pvt. Gerry Candela is at the bombing range at Wilcox, Ariz. Milton J. Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Perry, left Monday for the Navy. S2c Cliff Peters, son of the Joseph Peters', is home on leave after finishing Navy basic training at Sampson, N. Y.

PFC Joseph Raye is somewhere in the Pacific area. (Joe enlisted in Lawrence, but his wife lives at the Corner, so he's really one of the gang.) Cpl. Phil Gaudet is with a field artillery outfit, getting his mail through Saco, Maine, and Pvt. Ray Gaudet with the MP at Camp Niantic, Conn. Henry Buntin left Monday for Fort Devens. Pvt. Bill Doucette, son of the Freeman Doucettes, is with the infantry at Fort Jackson, So. Car.

Cpl. Jerome Gallant is with a special infantry detachment at Fort Ord, Calif. Cpl. Ed. Noel is with a bomb group somewhere in New Guinea. Cpl. Ray Peters, son of the Edward Peters', is somewhere in foreign service with an AAF fighter squadron.

Yessir, if you're looking for patriotism, Carter's Corner is one of the likeliest places to find it.

Pvt. Harold Stark, after stops at Atlantic City and New York, has been transferred to Connecticut's Bradley Field.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Virginia Sperl of New Britain, Conn., to Red Benvie. Red, who has been promoted from S1c to coxswain in the Navy, was in Andover last weekend and found the town just about the same, and the people friendly as ever.

Lieut. (J. g.) Jack McIntosh received a new assignment with the Pacific Fleet last month.

Lieut. Jim Moran of the ferry command has left for foreign service.

Barney O'Neill of the AAF moved recently from Gunter Field, Ala., to Malden, Missouri.

Howie Proctor is at Drew Field, Fla., now, adding to that base's already sizeable Andover colony.

And did we mention that S2c John Roberge of the CeeBees, formerly of Shawshen, is on active duty with the Pacific Fleet?

Down at Kelly Field, Texas, our former adman is now Sgt. Dave Petrie.

A. C. John Thomas is training now at Maxwell Field, Fla.

Chaplain David Segerstrom, accompanied by Mrs. Segerstrom, left last Wednesday to take up his new Army duties in Oregon.

A. C. Leslie Hadley of the Vale is now stationed in Alabama. An other Ballardvale boy, Sam Lowry, has been transferred to Arkansas.

Pfc. Dan Sharp, with a tank destroyer battalion, has just moved into Camp Hood, Texas. Dan would have liked to meet PFC George Brackett, also at Camp Hood, but George had evidently moved out just as Dan moved in.

Warren Lewis, son of the Arthur Lewises of West Andover, is going through Vanderbilt university's tough meteorology course in the AAF. The pre-meteorology course alone, which started February 15, will last 12 months, and it will be followed by an advanced 8-month course. At the end of all that Warren gets his gold bars.

The Franklin C. Roberts, Jr., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Nancy Lord, on May 11. Frank was in Punchedard's class of '40, later attending Wentworth institute. He was employed at the Portsmouth Navy Yard before his enlistment in the USNR, in which he now holds the grade of seaman 1c.

S2c Fred Morrison writes that being in Pensacola these days is just like being in Andover—in fact, he's met more Andover boys down there than he met in the town itself when home on leave a few weeks ago. Among the lads he's run into are A/C Doug Howe, Paul Buss, now in photo school, and Lieut. Milton Blanchard. His only beef, in fact, is the hot weather.

PFC Eddie Bacher has completed his basic training at Camp Lee, Va., and is now studying at an NCO quartermaster school there. He's Punchedard, '35, and later attended Lowell Textile and a Curtis-Wright school in Boston.

Pvt. Peter Bissett is with a barrage balloon battalion at Los Angeles, Calif.

And Pvt. Jasper Blandin is pretty well settled at Fort Bliss, Tex.

PFC Foster Zink, hospitalized with rheumatic fever at Camp Hale, Colo., writes the Fund association that their recent birthday card was doubly appreciated on that account.

Stephen Thiras is home from Bowdoin college on a month's vacation after finishing his first year there. Steve, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thiras of 4 Upland road, will be called into Navy service June 15 and for active service July 9. He graduated from Phillips in '41, and went out for freshman football and baseball at Bowdoin.

PFC Fred Yancy of 6 Central street reports that the Townsman is coming regularly to Westover Field.

Hughie McNeill left boot camp at Newport yesterday for a new assignment.

Andy Ferrier of Moraine street, now a first-class seaman in the Navy's armed guard service, sent home Mother's Day greetings from Scotland to Mrs. Elizabeth Ferrier. Andy got quite a thrill out of Scotland because it's his mother's birthplace. It's sure a shame the Navy wouldn't let him wear one of those famous plaid ties he sported in civilian life. . . . Andy's brother, PFC Bob Ferrier, is now somewhere at sea with his infantry regiment, but sent along Mother's Day flowers none the less.

Billy Anderson of 62 Red Spring road is now seaman 1c at Point Judith. He visited the folks over the weekend.

Mickey Batchelder, S1c in the Coast Guard, stationed at Boston, spent Friday with the family on Argilla road.

Returning yesterday morning to his Texas station, after a ten-day furlough at his home on Oak street, Ballardvale, was Henry Brook of the tank corps.

Norman Auchterlonie, AAF, of Red Spring road, is on a 15-day furlough from Independence, Kansas.

Cpl. Bob Deyermond of Parris Island is having himself a five-day furlough with the folks on Shawshen road. His brother, Cpl. Warren Deyermond, has left Parris Island for a special two-week course at Quantico.

Johnny Campbell of Brechin Terrace met Ted Cole of Florence street somewhere in the Pacific area recently. They had quite a reunion.

News of Andover's three clergymen in service; Lieut. Herman C. Johnson is residing in South Hamilton while taking his indoctrination course at Harvard. Lieut. David I. Segerstrom has been assigned to a camp in Oregon, and Capt. Albert C. Morris, former Christ church rector, has accompanied his regiment overseas.

George Drouin, MMIC, is helping put a new ship in commission down in Texas.

Pvt. Charlie Calderwood is now stationed at the Lawson General hospital in Atlanta, Gawja.

PFC Gus Reilly of High street has been selected to attend an artillery NCO school at Fort Scott, Calif.

CAPTURED JAP PRIZE

The Gaudet family of Carter's Corner have an interesting war souvenir, an official order from the captain of the ship on which their son, Gerard, is now serving. The memorandum deals with the capture of a Japanese merchant vessel with 46 prisoners. The order mentions that "the entire company, both those who were fortunate enough to constitute the salvage party and those who remained on board, have performed splendidly in the apprehension and salvage of the", and the Captain is justly proud of your work."

AT EASE!

Promotion of Joe Hanson of Andover to the rank of sergeant in the AAF has been announced at the San Juan headquarters of the Antilles Air Task Force. Joe joined up on April 23, 1941, and has been with his present unit since September of that year. He became pfc last August 16, corporal in September. Formerly a Chapman court resident, Punchedard student and photographer, he's now at a South American air base.

Pvt. Elwyn Hazleton of the Vale has been transferred to Cherry Point, N. C., where he's with the USMAC.

Cpl. Benny Lawrence, now in Africa, writes asking us to be sure to get his address right so he won't miss the Townsman. Ben's with the army engineers.

PLANNING ISN'T NEW

THE way a lot of people are talking these days, you'd think planning is something new.

But anybody who's ever run a farm or a factory knows that if you don't plan, you can't get the most out of what you have to work with.

To plan properly, the farmer has to know about crops, soils, seasons, tools, and stock; and the man operating a factory has to know about machines, markets, science, and engineering.

Yet for all this specialized knowledge which each of these activities requires, the managers of both farm and factory have much in common in their planning. They have the same problems—to mention a few—of employment and taxes, of costs and a fair profit, of setting aside reserves for a "rainy day."

And they have the same objective in their planning—to do everything they can for their country today, and, tomorrow, to make a fair living through greater service to their fellow Americans. General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Wins Spelling Contest Second Year In Row

Miss Ruth Ann Chadwick, daughter of the Harry Chadwicks of 160 Lowell street, got a more secure grip on the title of Andover's champion speller in her own generation last Friday night, when, for the second year in a row, she won the top prize in the Lincoln spelling contest for the public schools, held in the Memorial auditorium.

Last year she won first prize among the fifth grade contestants and went on to take the grand prize; this year, except that she has advanced a grade, she repeated that performance.

The Alfred Lincoln prizes of $3.75 and $2.50, awarded the winners in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades, went to: fifth grade, Donald Mulvey, Shawsheen school, first; Dorothy Dodge, Stowe school, second.

Sixth grade: Ruth Ann Chadwick, Stowe school, first; Robert Gagne, Shawsheen, second.

Junior high school, seventh grade: Robert Dea, first; Priscilla Wilkinson, second. In the eighth grade, William Stopford and Edward O'Connor came out the winners in that order.

A ninth grade elimination contest, with no prizes offered, saw Lorraine Hardisty and Marjorie Miller emerge the winners.

The Varnum Lincoln prizes, $10, $6 and $4, went to the following finals winners: Ruth Ann Chadwick, first; Marjorie Miller, second; Robert Gagne, third.

Horace M. Poynter gave out the words and Frederick W. H. Stott, was umpire. Both have served in these capacities for many years. The prizes were awarded by School Committee Chairman Frederick C. Smith.

Suggest Ship Named For Gen. Joseph Frye

Word has been received from Congressman Thomas J. Lane by the Sons of the American Revolution in reply to a request that the name of Brig. Gen. Joseph Frye be placed before the Maritime Commission as a suitable name for one of America's "victory ships."

"General Frye," Congressman Lane states, "was not only a distinguished leader in the French and Indian wars and the Revolution, but is also a predecessor of mine in the General Court of Massachusetts. Consequently, I am lending my whole-hearted support to your recommendation. As soon as word is received from Admiral Emory S. Land, I will notify you."

The letter was addressed to Paul A. L'Autigian, president of the S. A. R. chapter in this area.

Gen. Frye, one of several Andover men holding that rank in Washington's Continental army, was one of the town's most distinguished leaders. Several direct descendants still reside in town.

Plant Sale Planned

A sale of perennials, annuals, herbs, seeds, tomatoes and other vegetables will take place next Thursday at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Charles Arnold of 88 Central street.

Proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Lovell General hospital at Fort Devens. The public is invited to attend the sale.

Abolishment Of Frats Raises Storm On Hill

The simmering question of continuing permission for secret societies to exist at Phillips academy came to a boil Tuesday, when Dr. Claude M. Fuess, headmaster, made public the official attitude of the trustees and faculty in the matter. Such opinions were expressed in resolutions advocating the disbanding of the secret societies, passed by the trustees April 10 and by the faculty, at a special meeting, April 30.

The secret societies, or fraternities, are seven in number: PAZ, KOA, EDP, AUV, FLD, PBX and AGC. According to the decision of the trustees, no boy would be permitted to belong to any such organization after June 11.

The action is taken at this time because it is felt that secret societies are undemocratic, especially in wartime, and that it is harmful at any time to allow cliques to be favored among boys of prep school age. A committee of alumni representatives of the societies is to make a recommendation to the trustees for action June 10; no further action will be taken until then.

Dr. Fuess' statement Tuesday read:

"On April 10, 1943, the Trustees of Phillips Academy, with nine members present and voting, passed certain resolutions, as follows:

VOTED, that it is the sense of the Trustees that the existence of secret societies at Andover is not to the best interests of the school.

VOTED, that after the close of the present school year on June 11, 1943, no boys be permitted to belong to or join any social organization not authorized by the faculty.

On April 30, 1943, at a special meeting of the faculty, the following resolution was passed:

VOTED, that it is the sense of the faculty that the existence of social societies, with restricted membership, is not to the best interests of Phillips Academy.

"At a dinner meeting in New York on Friday, May 14, 1943, attended by eight Trustees and presided over by Colonel Frederick T. Murphy, the action of the Trustees and Faculty was interpreted to twenty-two alumni members of the secret societies. After some discussion, the Trustees present, while reaffirming their adherence to their first resolution, agreed to give a later hearing to a committee of seven alumni, one representing each society. They also agreed, as individuals, to recommend to the Trustees at their formal meeting June 10, a temporary postponement, at the request of the Alumni Committee, of the date set in the second resolution of the Trustees. The Trustees are now necessarily awaiting the presentation of a report from this Alumni Committee. No further action may be expected until after the stated meeting of the Trustees on Thursday, June 10."

Servicemen's Dance Is Largely Attended

Mrs. George F. Symonds, president of the auxiliary to Andover Post 2128, V. F. W., was hostess Saturday evening to a group of servicemen in the post rooms in the Musgrove building. The servicemen guests were from Portsmouth, N. H., Bedford, Phillips academy and Shawsheen.

Many local boys in the service were also present. The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion in red, white and blue, the decorating being done by Mrs. William Deyermund, Mrs. Elizabeth Dushame and members of the auxiliary. Music for dancing was furnished by Healey's orchestra of Haverhill.

Several Andover young ladies attended as junior hostesses and dancing partners. Each serviceman present received a gift of cigarettes, and ice cream, cake and soft drinks were served. Mrs. Bertha Martin was chairman of the dance, assisted by several of the other members who have sons in the service.

The servicemen evidently enjoyed themselves thoroughly, and left the hall expressing such praise over the affair that another dance is being planned.

This week's heat made braids and light washable dresses become very much the vogue. Several of the girls have even taken to up-swept hair-dos.

The band has several engagements during the coming week which will conclude its performances for this year. On Sunday it will march with several other units for the regular yearly services in the memory of those who died at sea. Wednesday it has been invited by Lowell to participate in the annual field day. Next Thursday night, May 27, the Service club is entertaining the band with a dance and banquet, and will present it with a beautiful hand-painted flag.

Memorial Day the band will march in the annual parade with all the other units.

Another activity of the music department, the Girls' Glee club, under the direction of Miss Miriam Sweeney, is practicing daily for the annual graduation exercises.

Last week the Senior class successfully sponsored a movie at the Andover Playhouse. The program included "Bambi" and "Henry Aldrich Goes Glamour."

The Class pictures were returned for the last time yesterday. Group pictures were also taken for this year's class book.

Two baseball games have been scheduled since last Thursday. Friday Methuen beat Punchard, 8 to 7. Punchard is to meet Central Catholic this afternoon at the Playstead.

The last of the combined assemblies was held yesterday. Glenn L. Morris presented a talk with illustrations on the "Magic of Science." Among his demonstrations was the radio beam, by means of which pilots find their way through fog and other bad weather conditions. Other features were directional or "homing" radio and burglar alarm systems and the like.

VFW Auxiliary Notes

At a recent meeting in the post rooms, the V.F.W. auxiliary elected the following delegates and alternates to the state encampment: Mrs. Bertha Martin, Mrs. Bertha Folley, Mrs. Martha Deyermond, Mrs. Margaret MacCord, Mrs. Annie Fraser and Mrs. Marion Deyermond. This year's encampment will be in Brockton.

The next regular meeting of the auxiliary will be next Wednesday evening at 8:00. Mrs. Louise Simeone, chaplain, will be in charge of the exercises. Officers are requested to wear white. Plans will also be made to conduct another dance for the men in service.

New members recently joining the organization are Mrs. Margaret MacCord, Mrs. Elizabeth Ruxton, Mrs. Martha Deyermond, Mrs. Margaret Partridge, Mrs. Maude Spinney, Mrs. Robert Mauck, Mrs. Annie Daley, Mrs. Marion Deyermond and Mrs. Elizabeth Dushame.

Service Club Nominates Officers For Next Year

The following were nominated as officers for the 1943-44 season at last Thursday evening's Service club meeting: Guy B. Howe, president; Ellsworth H. Lewis, first vice president; Edward I. Erickson, second vice president; T. Augustine Farragher, secretary; Frederick W. Gould, treasurer; J. Augustus Remington, Frank A. Buttrick, William A. Doherty, George F. Brakey and Timothy J. Scanlon, directors. The club will vote at its next meeting on the nominating committee's report.

Walter E. Billings has declined to serve as secretary another year. Mr. Billings has been secretary of the club since its foundation a decade ago, and also held that office in the Lions club, its immediate predecessor.

Past presidents' night was observed at the meeting. J. Augustus Remington, president, read notes of regret from Nathan C. Hamblin, the first president, who is ill at his home, and Walter C. Tomlinson, unable to be present because of business reasons. Past presidents responding were Henry S. Hopper, Francis Wilson, Carl E. Elander, Thaxter Eaton and Harold W. Leitch.

Rev. Clinton W. Carvell of North Andover, president of the Lawrence Lions club, spoke on world affairs. He expressed the opinion that the continent of Europe is very strongly fortified, and that it is inadvisable for the United Nations to force an invasion until they are fully prepared. Though even the Germans now realize that they are fighting a war of defense, the conflict may last two years more, with invasion from several points, he believes.

The problem of driving the Japs from the South Pacific and of satisfying the desires for freedom of the various races in India, he said, are also troubling problems which must be solved in the near future.

Hitler-Lewis Meeting?

Commentators on the Churchill-Roosevelt meetings have made reference to the apparent discontinuing of the Hitler-Mussolini meetings. The reason probably is that Adolf has decided that he secured a liability when he won Italy over to the Axis side, and at the same time Benito is probably wondering if he didn't act a bit too hastily when he entered the war thinking it was all over back in the days when France was ready to capitulate.

We here at home can't help but feel that Adolf's next meeting might be with a fellow named John L. Lewis, because he threatens to be a much more helpful ally than Il Duce was. This morning it was announced that he had swung his United Mine Workers over to the American Federation of Labor again, and it's a splendid opportunity for Mr. Green to demonstrate his patriotism by halting any work stoppage. But chances are that if Mr. Green does interfere with Mr. Lewis, the wild-browed mine leader will secede again.

Somebody has to deal with Mr. Lewis with a firm hand, and it looks as if it will have to be the government, reinforced by an outraged public opinion. It would be so much better if labor could straighten him out itself, for he at present is doing more harm to the cause of labor than any other person has ever done. Labor needs public support, and a man like John L. Lewis, who won't play the game according to the rules, is not the kind of a man to win public respect. There are some people in this country who don't like unions, but there are a great many who feel that unions are necessary and are desirable. But every true American, no matter what his feelings on unions, dislikes the unAmerican way that John L. Lewis has been conducting, or refusing to conduct, the miners' negotiations. Every true American wants to see the miners and every other laboring man get what he deserves in the way of wages, but Mr. Lewis has prejudiced the case against the miners. No, he hasn't been working for them; he's been working against them.

Had someone in authority over the miners' union gone to the government and presented the case, urged either a wage increase at the same level of prices or urged the drastic curtailing of prices so that workers' real wages measured in terms of buying power wouldn't be cut, the chances are that something would have been done about it, and the cause of labor would not have received the black mark that John L. Lewis has given it.

The American people on the whole want unions to continue; they realize that they're a great power for good, but they realize too that if the power is misused, the tremendous progress unions have made will be imperilled. It's labor's job to straighten Mr. Lewis out; here's hoping it can be done.

Poor Mussolini! Looking at the Allies offering peace feelers in the South, and Herr Hitler making threatening gestures in the North, he must feel like uttering Wimpy's famous old saying: "Come up to my house sometime for a duck dinner. You bring the ducks."

We wrote to a serviceman friend the other day, a buck private these past two years, to inquire whether he had been promoted to pfc yet. He wrote back that the C. O. couldn't make up his mind whether to make him a "pfd" or "pfe"—"private for the duration" or "private forever."

POLICE BLOTTER

Anybody desiring a nice, tender, juicy, succulent venison steak, is invited to get himself accepted as a resident at the Tewksbury almshouse—provided, of course, he has the necessary qualifications.

The Tewksbury people are dining on venison steaks this week, venison from a deer killed accidentally Monday by George Squires on River road, near the radio towers. Squires was driving down the road when the deer burst out of some bushes at the side and ran squarely into the right side of the car.

It was a heavy deer, and gave the car quite a blow. In fact, it (we don't really know whether it was a "he" or a "she") bent the right side of the hood and the right headlight and mudguard so badly that the door on that side could not be closed.

Officer John Deyermund went to the scene in the police cruiser, and found the deer fatally injured. In accordance with the existing law, he summoned Game Warden Fred Crosby from Dracut to dispatch the animal.

Crosby bled the deer after the execution, and had it brought to the Tewksbury almshouse to have steaks cut from it for the almshouse table.

Earl Sumner of 17 Elm street was brought into Lawrence district court Friday morning on a charge of assault and battery on Charles Davis, bartender in a local tavern. Sumner pleaded guilty and was fined $15.

Lyle Phillips, Salem street riding stable proprietor, reported to police Saturday the loss of a riding saddle worth $50 and harness, worth $25, both the property of John Bolten of South Main street. The articles have not since been recovered.

Acts of vandalism are still being committed in several parts of town. Officer David Gillespie is at present checking up on a gang of boys who are breaking windows in a large vacant dwelling at the lower end of School street, near the railroad station. There have been 33 separate windows broken so far, which passes beyond all ordinary concepts of "fun."

Beef Is Still Very Short

In view of the scarcity of meat and the outlook not very promising that there will be more in a week or two, we urge you to use your Red Stamps as they become due and not accumulate them for the May 30th weekend. If you save them, you may not be able to secure any meat at all. Last weekend we had over 600 meat orders on our books. We were able to fill a little over 500. Were that number to double in one week, it can readily be seen how many customers would be disappointed.

We are hoping to be able to continue to take orders in advance but as our list of customers increases and the amount of meat available decreases we are soon going to be faced with a very serious problem—one which "orders in advance" will not solve.

Point rationing for home consumers is very disturbing at times. Point rationing for those directly connected with the buying, pricing, changing to higher and lower point values of commodities, substituting of brands that can no longer be procured, shortages of this, shortages of that, it's disturbing to them all the time! Anyway, here's the point, bring in your books now—don't wait until the end of the month. The confusion that accompanies late disposal of points by customers is disturbing to everyone.

RED CROSS NEWS

The Red Cross is still making a strong effort to have qualified women join the nursing services in the armed forces. The present goal is 36,000 nurses for the Army and Navy, 100,000 nurse's aides for the hospitals and a million home nursing graduates. A good picture of the program is given in the half-hour series at 1:00 Sunday afternoons on NBC radio stations.

The local chapter now has the names of the following local women in service as nurses: Elizabeth Beedles, Helen Beer, Mary Corey, Lucy Gallant, Helen Har-kin, Marjorie Kydd, Stephanie Marcus, Dorothy Morehouse, Helen Platt, Eleanor Reed, Mary Robertson, Mary Winslow and Hazel Malo. If there are any other names that should be added to the nurses' honor roll, they may be left at the Red Cross rooms in the Musgrove building.

Army Attack

to the local staff Sunday morning.

The local company will simulate the blocking of roads and blowing up of bridges by placing yellow streamers on them, a signal previously agreed on, and the streamers will be respected by both sides. All such defense measures will have been taken before the exer-ciss start.

The local company has a definite rendezvous to which they would proceed in any emergency, remaining there until relieved.

Chief Air Raid Warden Leonard James, at the report center, will furnish the Guard, through Major Warren, with all pertinent information, received through a far-flung line of wardens. Such information will concern all troop movements, both friendly and enemy.

Wardens, police and other civilian defense squadrons on duty are cautioned that they will be subject to capture by enemy troops as soon as they are sighted, and will be declared out of action by the umpires. It will be part of the test for these workers to get as much information as they can without themselves being detected.

Wardens and police taking part in the maneuvers will furnish the report center with such information as their specific location, the direction enemy troops are headed, their type of transportation, the installations attacked and any defense being offered.

The workers will be assembled, for only three hours at the most,
not the full day, by the regular alarm signal. The report center staff will mobilize on the "yellow" and on the "blue," all ARP personnel will take their posts. The all clear will be given by radio and a single blast on the air raid sirens.

The general outline of the maneuvers will be that a flight of enemy planes has come in over Ipswich, and dispersed there to bomb installations and drop paratroopers to attack points throughout northern Massachusetts. Such enemy troops may be presumed to have jeeps, trucks, half tracks, or any of the lighter vehicles used in the current war.

Music appreciation period was spent naming famous compositions and their composers. Next week a board of experts will be seated on the stage to identify famous pieces.

This week the ninth grade is having three competitive tests. Yesterday an English test was administered by Miss Stevens, today an algebra test by Miss Banning, and tomorrow a science test will be conducted by Mr. Dimlich. These tests will help the students select their next year's classes.

The victory rally held Friday was a great success. The sum of $569.70 was collected. The rally was under the supervision of Miss Stevens and Miss Donovan. There were three booths, one for each grade; the two people having the most unique way of earning their money described them to the other students. This rally completed the purchase of the machine gun with several hundred dollars to spare.

Representatives of the various churches taking part were Rev. and Mrs. Elton E. Smith, Herbert H. Otis, Rev. John S. Moses, Fay H. Elliott, Rev. Frederick B. Noss, Thaxter Eaton, Mrs. Cecelia A. Derrah, Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, Douglas Dunbar, Rev. Harland G. Lewis, Steven T. Byington, Martha D. Byington, George G. Brown, Rev. Donald H. Savage, Mrs. Earle Slate and Herbert P. Carter.

The matter of weekday religious education will be considered in the interval before the next meeting, June 13 at 4:00 in the Baptist church vestry.

Observation School For Younger Children

In conjunction with the regular sessions of the Northern New England School of Religious Education being held here this summer, there will be the usual observation school for children between the ages of four to fifteen.

This school is under the leadership of Dr. Edna A. Acheson of Rochester, N. Y., who is widely experienced in this sort of work.

The group will meet in the South church mornings during the week of August 15 to 22. Because only a limited number can be registered, cards are being distributed throughout the various church schools to be taken home by the children and returned as soon as possible to the church school superintendent or to Miss Harriet Newman, 121 Elm street, after being signed by the parents or guardian.

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor:

The black market in time of war is an ugly venture. Yet we read of the convictions won by the F.B.I. against those who should have been the first to give their heart's blood for freedom against world dishonesty.

Americans are reminded to be tolerant, to be generous, to be forgiving; yes, Americans are asked to tighten their belts so that our armed forces will have food to carry on the war to victory.

Yet, in the midst of these demands, the black market operator and subscriber, and the racketeer, are rampant in our land. How can we be tolerant, or how can tolerance be honestly taught, when our country is being sold out by those whose lust for wealth is akin to that of him who betrayed Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane for 30 pieces of silver?
